NOTICE OF REMOVAL;
SUPPORTING DECLARATION

[28 U.S.C. §§ 1332 and 1441]

[Superior Court of San Diego Case
No. 37-2008-00056017-CU-PT:NC]

BY FAX

TO THE CLERK OF THE ABOVE-ENTITLED COURT:

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1332 and 1441,
Respondents INTERACTIVE DATA CORP. and INTERACTIVE DATA
PRICING AND REFERENCE DATA, INC. (collectively, "Respondents"), hereby remove the above-captioned action, presently pending in the Superior Court of the State of California for the County of San Diego as Case No. 37-2008-00056017-
CU-PT:NC, to the United States District Court for the Southern District of California. As grounds for removal to this Court, Respondents state as follows:

1 FACTUAL BACKGROUND

2 1. On July 1, 2008, Petitioners DODGER, INC., GOLD, INC., BORUI,
3 INC., and SALOMON HELFON TUACHI filed this action against Respondents in 4 the Superior Court of the State of California for the County of San Diego and 5 captioned it as set forth above. A true and correct copy of Petitioners' pleading and
6 supporting materials is attached hereto as Exhibit A. Service was not effectuated
7 until July 15, 2008. See Paragraph 7, infra.

8 2. Respondent INTERACTIVE DATA CORP. is a provider of financial 9 market data, analytics and related services to financial institutions, active traders
10 and individual investors. Its businesses supply real-time market data, pricing, 11 evaluations and reference data for millions of securities traded around the world,
12 including hard-to-value instruments. See Declaration of Sigal Lewkowicz
13 ("Lewkowicz Decl.") ¶ 3 (attached hereto as Exhibit B).

14 3. Respondent INTERACTIVE DATA PRICING AND REFERENCE
15 DATA, INC., a subsidiary of Respondent INTERACTIVE DATA CORP., is a 16 source to the institutional investment community for market data and financial 17 information. It collects, edits, maintains, and delivers data on more than 6 million
18 securities, including daily evaluations for approximately 2.5 million fixed income
19 and international equity issues. See Lewkowicz Decl. ¶ 4.

20 4. In their pleading, Petitioners seek to enforce a subpoena duces tecum
21 ("the Subpoena") issued to Respondents in a Financial Industry Regulatory 22 Authority ("FINRA") arbitration proceeding. See Ex. A at A6. Respondents are 23 not parties to the arbitration. See Lewkowicz Decl. ¶ 6.

24 5. The Subpoena was issued on April 25, 2008. See Ex. A ¶ 8.

25 6. Respondents have declined to provide the documents requested in the 26 Subpoena because the Subpoena was exceptionally burdensome and unreasonable 27 in that it was served two business days prior to the due date; its requests are 28 enormously overbroad; and producing responsive documents would be unduly

1 burdensome and costly for Respondents, who are not parties to the arbitration, and 2 who have had no opportunity to object to the scope of the subpoena before the 3 arbitration panel. Moreover, the subpoena is not enforceable, as it purports to seek 4 pre-hearing discovery from a non-party in aid of a FINRA arbitration subject to the 5 Federal Arbitration Act. 9 U.S.C. § 7.

6 7. Petitioners served a copy of their initial pleading in this matter on 7 Respondents on July 15, 2008, via Federal Express. Neither Respondent had 8 received a copy of that pleading before such service. This Notice of Removal is 9 therefore timely under 28 U.S.C. § 1446(b) because it is filed within thirty days 10 after such service.

11 8. This Court is the appropriate court to which Petitioners' action may be 12 removed, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1446(a), because it is the "district court of the 13 United States for the district and division within which such action is pending."
14 Petitioners filed their action in San Diego, California, and it remains pending there 15 as of the date of this notice.

16 9. The petition attached hereto as Exhibit A is the only document that has 17 so far been filed in this matter.

18 10. A copy of this Notice of Removal will be filed contemporaneously
19 with the Clerk of the Superior Court of the State of California for the County of San 20 Diego, and will be served contemporaneously upon all counsel of record, as 21 required by 28 U.S.C. § 1446(d).

22 JURISDICTION

23 11. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this action pursuant to 24 28 U.S.C. § 1332 because: (1) no petitioner and respondent are citizens of the same 25 state and (2) the amount in controversy exceeds $75,000 exclusive of interest and 26 court costs.

There Exists Complete Diversity of Citizenship

12. Both Respondents are Delaware corporations whose principal places of business are located in Bedford, Massachusetts. See Lewkowicz Decl. ¶ 5. Thus, for purposes of 28 U.S.C. §§ 1332 and 1441, each Respondent is a citizen of both the State of Delaware and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. See 28 U.S.C. § 1332(c)(1). Neither Respondent is a citizen of California.

13. Petitioners DODGER, INC., GOLD, INC., and BORUJ, INC., are each corporations chartered on the Island of Nevis whose principal places of business are located in Mexico City, Mexico. See Articles of Incorporation and Shareholder Resolutions of Dodger, Inc., (attached hereto as Exhibit C) at C126 and C128; see Bylaws of Gold, Inc., (attached hereto as Exhibit D) at D131; see Articles of Incorporation and Shareholder Resolutions of Boruj, Inc., (attached hereto as Exhibit E) at E152 and E156. Thus, for purposes of 28 U.S.C. §§ 1332 and 1441, each is a citizen of both the Island of Nevis and of Mexico. See 28 U.S.C. § 1332(c)(1).

14. Upon information and belief, Petitioner SALOMON HELFON TUACHI, is a citizen either of the State of California or of Mexico.

15. The supposed defendants named as "DOES 1 through 10, Inclusive" are sued under fictitious names whose alleged citizenship is to be disregarded for purposes of removal jurisdiction. 28 U.S.C. § 1441(a).

The Amount in Controversy Exceeds $75,000

16. Through this action, Petitioners seek: (1) an order to show cause why Respondents should not be held in contempt for declining to collect and produce the subpoenaed documents, (2) an order enforcing the Subpoena, (3) their costs and attorneys fees in bringing this action. See Ex. A at A6.

17. Respondents can demonstrate by a preponderance of the evidence that the amount put in controversy by Petitioners exceeds $75,000 (exclusive of interest and court costs) because: (1) the collection, review, and production of the

1 documents and information requested in the Subpoena is likely to cost Respondents
2 significantly more than that amount, see Lewkowicz Decl. ¶¶ 6–9, and (2) the 3 Petitioners seek substantial attorneys’ fees from Respondents, see Ex. A at 5.

4 18. Specifically, as set forth in the accompanying Declaration, the costs of 5 responding to the first request in the Subpoena would be well in excess of $1.6
6 million, without taking into account any attorneys’ fees associated with review and 7 production. See Lewkowicz Decl. ¶¶ 6–8. See McCauley v. Ford Motor Co. (In re
8 Ford Motor Co./Citibank (S.D.), N.A., Cardholder Rebate Program Litig.), 264 9 F.3d 952, 958 (9th Cir. 2001) (explaining that amount in controversy required to 10 establish diversity jurisdiction is satisfied if defendant demonstrates that it will be 11 forced to expend more than the jurisdictional threshold in order to comply with the 12 order that plaintiff seeks) (citing, inter alia, Ridder Bros. Inc., v. Blethen, 142 F.2d 13 395, 398–99 (9th Cir. 1944)).

14 19. Moreover, the attorneys’ fees Petitioners have requested must also be 15 taken into account. “The Ninth Circuit clearly considers attorneys’ fees when 16 assessing amount in controversy.” Simmons v. PCR Technology, 209 F. Supp. 2d
17 1029, 1034 (N.D. Cal. 2002) (citing, inter alia, Galt G/S v. JSS Scandinavia, 142 18 F.3d 1150, 1155–56 (9th Cir. 1998)). “The court determines the amount in 19 controversy based on the damages that can reasonably be anticipated at the time of 20 removal. Similarly, the measure of fees should be the amount that can reasonably 21 be anticipated at the time of removal, not merely those already incurred.” Id. at 22 1035. Thus, when considering attorneys’ fees in the amount in controversy, a court
23 must reasonably anticipate what fees a party may be forced to pay at the lawsuit’s
24 conclusion. Petitioner’s attorneys have not provided information regarding the 25 costs incurred or anticipated in connection with this matter; however, those costs 26 will add to the substantial costs of production discussed above and in the 27 accompanying Declaration, which clearly exceed the jurisdictional minimum.

2 WHEREFORE, Respondents Interactive Data Corp. and Interactive Data
3 Pricing and Reference Data, Inc., respectfully remove this action from the Superior
4 Court of the State of California for the County of San Diego (Case No. 37-2008-
5 00056017-CU-PT:NC) to the United States District Court for the Southern District
6 of California. Respondents further pray that: (1) pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1447, this
7 Court proceed in this action as if this action had originally been filed in this Court
8 and (2) further proceedings in the state court action be stayed in all respects.

II. FACTS

6. Beginning in and about January 2002 Respondents solicited Juan and Sofia Nasielskier to entrust the bulk of Claimant's net worth to RESPONDENTS. In soliciting Claimant's business

2 Respondents represented that RESPONDENTS were amongst the most conservative and trusted
3 brokerage firms, that Respondents would care for their money conservatively and that Claimant should 4 trust the brokers as family - particularly given their strong mutual religious affiliation and cultural 5 relationship.

6 7. In or about 2002 Respondents opened account number OJR-344095 in the name of 7 Dodger, Inc. Claimant instructed and Respondents agreed to invest the funds in only the most 8 conservative investments with the primary investment objective of preservation of capital and 9 maximizing low risk income. From 2002 the account was predominated by securities represented by 10 Respondents to be the most conservative Fixed Income holdings such as Government issued or backed 11 bonds. Respondents knew that the account was intended to be a conservative account which primarily 12 preserved principal, particularly given the retirement status, advanced age and ill health of the 13 Nasielskiers. Notwithstanding, Respondents engaged in unauthorized, unsuitable and excessive high 14 risk trading, as discussed more fully below.

15 8. Respondents engaged in an excessive, unsuitable and unauthorized trading pattern that 16 was concentrated through May 2007 in highly speculative derivative products, including but not limited
17 to purported mortgage backed securities (Collateralized Mortgage Obligations) in which Respondents
18 maintained undisclosed interests. By way of example and without limitation, RESPONDENTS invested
19 Claimant's funds earmarked for conservative fixed income investments-on margin- in such highly 20 speculative and unpredictable issues as "GNMA REMIC Pass Through Certificates", "Structured Asset
21 Securities Series", "GSR Mortgage Loan Trust Series", "Multiclass Mortgage Partnership Certificates
22 GTD Inverse Floaters", "Master Asset Securities Trust Series" and so on. By June 2007 the "values"
23 of the derivatives in Claimant's account were unilaterally and substantially marked down by 24 RESPONDENT FIDELITY triggering margin calls that decimated Claimants account. The cumulative
25 loss arising from RESPONDENTS' wrongful conduct is believed to exceed $1,000,000.

26 9. RESPONDENT FIDELITY entered a clearing contract at a time unknown to Claimant
27 with BROOKSTREET and thereby obtained the benefits of receiving fees and margin interest in 28 connection with Claimant and other Brookstreet client accounts. All of Claimant's funds were held in

1 accounts that were set up and maintained by RESPONDENT FIDELITY. All transactions in Claimant's
 2 accounts were executed for a fee by RESPONDENT FIDELITY and RESPONDENT FIDELITY
 3 profited in the amount of millions of dollars from unlawful and unsuitable Brookstreet client margin
 4 accounts under the custody of RESPONDENT FIDELITY.

5 10 FIDELITY INVESTMENTS COMPANY and NATIONAL FINANCIAL SERVICES
 6 LLC owed Claimants a fiduciary duty with respect to the services provided by them to CLAIMANT.
 7 Amongst the services that the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS undertook to provide and owed a fiduciary
 8 duty to provide was the establishment of the account, execution of securities transactions and reporting
 9 to CLAIMANT the execution of securities transactions and the status of CLAIMANT'S accounts,
 10 including, inter alia, the value of the securities held in the accounts. The FIDELITY RESPONDENTS
 11 were the primary source, and often only source, of information with respect to the value of the securities
 12 purchased in Claimant's account. The FIDELITY RESPONDENTS had a fiduciary duty to provide 13 accurate information with respect to the value of Claimant's account and the securities in the account.

14 11. Amongst the documents issued by the Respondents pursuant to the fiduciary duty to 15 CLAIMANTS were monthly account statements reflecting the cash position and the securities held as 16 well as the amount and value of the securities held. The monthly statements also contained
 17 representations with respect to the value of the Claimant's account in aggregate. The monthly account 18 statements systematically overstated the value of the securities and the accounts.

19 12. The FIDELITY RESPONDENTS were aware, as the clearing firm for Brookstreet, that 20 Brookstreet and its clients had, through the income investments it concentrated its business in,
 21 tremendous exposure not only to the mortgage market but also to the much more risky sub-prime market.
 22 The FIDELITY RESPONDENTS were further aware that the prevailing practice at Brookstreet was to 23 purchase and/or hold in client accounts extremely risky mortgage backed securities, such as
 24 COLLATERALIZED MORTGAGE OBLIGATIONS ("CMOs"), and COLLATERALIZED DEBT
 25 OBLIGATIONS ("CDOs") on margin, utilizing credit extended by the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS
 26 The risk was so extreme that the investment strategy was unsuitable for virtually everyone, and could 27 only exist as an artifice to defraud and as a scheme to defraud.
 28

13. Despite the risk, the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS determined to aid the scheme to defraud by providing margin credit on which it would profit and inaccurate information with respect to securities values purchased or held in accounts of clients of Brookstreet, such as Claimant.

14. The FIDELITY RESPONDENTS knew that Brookstreet routinely advised its clients to invest in illiquid and risky fixed income products, such as CMOs and CDOs. The risk to Claimants and other Clients associated with the illiquid fixed income products was exacerbated and magnified by the practice of purchasing and holding fixed income positions using margin credit extended by the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS. As the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS income and profit from Claimant and other investor accounts was dependent on the margin interest balances and interest generated by the accounts, the interests of the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS were in conflict with the fiduciary obligation of the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS to CLAIMANT and other account holders to accurately provide information concerning the underlying financial instruments, including but not limited to CMO's, CDOs and other derivatives comprised of aspects of sub-prime and other mortgages.

15. The FIDELITY RESPONDENTS routinely and systematically misrepresented the value of the securities in CLAIMANT's accounts by knowingly and intentionally grossly overstating the value of the securities. The overstated values assigned by the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS concealed the effect of the unsuitable transactions executed in CLAIMANT's account and provided false confidence to CLAIMANT that the account could continue to invest in and hold income investments offered and sold through RESPONDENTS BROOKSTREET and the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS. The FIDELITY RESPONDENTS systematic overstatement of the value of securities in Claimant's and other clients of the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS through Brookstreet was a necessary element of the scheme and artifice to defraud.

16. Claimant reasonably relied on the values assigned to the investments in the account by the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS that created an air of stability and suitability and continued to invest through RESPONDENT BROOKSTREET in additional similar products. Claimant was unaware of the risks associated with the positions in the account. Had Claimant been aware of the risk and magnitude of the risks of the securities sold through RESPONDENTS BROOKSTREET and the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS, Claimant would NOT have entered and/or maintained the positions.

OFFICE (619) 696-5200 ♦ FACSIMILE (619) 696-5393

17. In June 2007, the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS suddenly and drastically assigned lower values to the CMOs, CDOs and similar products resulting in margin calls that immediately caused RESPONDENT BROOKSTREET to shut down and cease meaningful operations. The margin calls issued by the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS created a negative net worth for RESPONDENT BROOKSTREET SECURITIES and caused the collapse of RESPONDENT BROOKSTREET resulting in the institution of SEC and NASD investigations. The sudden drastic devaluation by the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS was unforeseeable to Claimant and did not allow investors the opportunity to sell positions. The FIDELITY RESPONDENTS acted at all times to maximize its own income and profit and purposefully deceived Claimants with respect to the value of the securities that they were purchasing and had purchased.

18. As a direct and proximate cause of Respondents fraud, breach of fiduciary duty, negligence, deceit and unfair business practices, Claimant has been damaged in an amount exceeding $1,000,000.

III. CLAIMS FOR RELIEF

A. FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Violation of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, §10(b), §20, and Rule 10b-5; Securities Act of 1933, §12, §15; Liability of Principal for Acts of Agent; Respondeat Superior)

19. Claimant realleges and incorporates by reference each and every one of the above allegations as if fully set forth herein. Respondents practice of selling risky CMO, CDO and similar income investments based upon representations that they were safe and without disclosing the highly complex and risky nature while encouraging clients such as Claimant to invest on margin acted as a scheme and artifice to defraud clients such as Claimant herein. As the scheme and artifice to defraud required clearing services to pass ownership of the securities and misrepresentations of the value of the securities, as previously alleged, the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS were sellers, participants in and control persons with respect to the scheme and artifice to defraud and the misrepresentations pursuant thereto.

20. The acts and course of conduct by Respondents constituted manipulative and deceptive devices, schemes or contrivances to defraud Claimant. Respondents and their agents, singularly or in

1 concert, engaged in a course of conduct, and violated § 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934,
 2 and Rule 10b-5 as promulgated thereunder, and §12 of the Securities Act of 1933, pursuant to which
 3 they knowingly and recklessly engaged in acts, transactions, and practices, particularly failure to follow
 4 Claimant's instructions, which operated as a fraud upon Claimant, and made various untrue statements
 5 of material facts and omitted to state material facts necessary in order to make the statements made, in 6 light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading to Claimant. Respondents acted 7 with scienter.

8 21. Respondents were involved in the sale of securities to Claimant, using Claimant's funds.
 9 In making such sales, Respondents made material misrepresentations and omissions of material fact, in 10 violation of Rule 10b-5. Such misrepresentations and omissions were made willfully, maliciously and 11 recklessly with the specific intent to induce reliance and to defraud Claimant. Claimant relied upon 12 Respondents' misrepresentations and omissions. Claimant consequently was damaged by such reliance.

13 22. Claimant further alleges that Respondents are vicariously liable under §15 of the 14 Securities Act of 1933, and § 20(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. During the subject period,
 15 when Claimant suffered financial injury, Respondents BROOKS, POPPER and BROOKSTREET's
 16 officers and directors acted as controlling persons of Respondent MANOR, the primary instruments of 17 Respondents' wrongful acts, and Claimant's broker. Respondent BROOKSTREET served as the broker-
 18 dealer for its registered representative Respondent MANOR and others, and provided its registered
 19 representatives access to the securities markets. At all times, Respondents knowingly directed and 20 indirectly controlled or had the ability to control, participated with or materially assisted Respondent
 21 MANOR in the commission of a statutory, regulatory and common law violations, as set forth in this 22 Statement of Claim. Respondents are, therefore, jointly and severally liable to the same extent as their 23 agent, Respondent MANOR.

24 23. Respondents FIDELITY and BROOKSTREET and its officers and directors are liable
 25 for all actions of each other and their (agents, directors, officers and attorneys). (Respondent Superior 26 and control person liability). In addition, under the common law, principals are liable for the actions of 27 their agents. At all times relevant RESPONDENTS, and each of them acted as agents of each other in 28 committing the wrongful acts and in failing to act in a lawful manner

1 24. As a direct and proximate result of the foregoing and willful misrepresentations, fraud,
2 and deceit, Claimant suffered investment losses in excess of $1,000,000 and was grievously harmed and
3 seek relief as hereinafter set forth. Respondents acted with malice, oppression and fraud towards 4 Claimant and Claimant is entitled to recover punitive and exemplary damages in an amount as shall abide
5 the discretion of the arbitration panel

6 B. SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF

7 (Violation of Cal. Corporations Code § 25401, 25501, and 25504)

8 Claimant realleges and incorporates by reference each and every one of the above
9 allegations as if fully set forth herein.

10 25. California Corporations Code § 25401 provides that:

11 It is unlawful for any person to offer or sell a security in this state by 12 means of any written or oral communication which includes an untrue
13 statement of material fact or omits to state a material fact necessary in 14 order to make the statements made, in light of the circumstances under 15 which they were made, not misleading

16 26. Under Corp Code § 25501, "any person who violates Section 25401 shall be liable to the 17 person who purchases a security from him or sells a security to him . . . unless the defendant proves that 18 the plaintiff knew the facts concerning the untruth or omission or that the defendant exercised reasonable 19 care and did not know . . . of the untruth or omission."

20 27. As set forth above, and as will be demonstrated at the arbitration of this matter, the facts
21 will show that Respondents knew of the falsity of their assertions. The facts will further demonstrate that 22 Respondents withheld material information from Claimant in order to mislead it and induce the sale of 23 the securities referenced above.

24 28. All Respondents are jointly and severally liable for their agents' misrepresentations and 25 omissions of material fact pursuant to the provisions of Cal. Corp. Code § 25504, since all Respondents 26 participated in and directly or indirectly controlled the misrepresentations and omissions of material fact.
27 As a direct and proximate cause of Respondents violations of the Corporate Securities Law of 1968,
28 claimants suffered investment losses in excess of $1,000,000.

27 / / /

28 / / /

1 C. THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF

2 (Common Law Fraud, Conspiracy to Defraud and Aiding and Abetting Fraud)

3 Claimant realleges and incorporates by reference each and every one of the above
4 allegations as if fully set forth herein.

5 29. Respondents represented that funds would be invested in securities consistent with 6 Claimant's investment objectives. Respondents willfully failed to advise Claimant of the high level of 7 risk associated with the activities taking place in the account. Respondents were aware of the wrongful 8 activities, or were reckless in permitting them to continue, in order to receive the benefit of the 9 commissions associated with such sales, and to profit from the trades in Claimant's account. Claimant
10 trusted Respondents, and relied exclusively upon their representations. Claimant's reliance on 11 Respondents' statements was reasonable under the circumstances since Claimant was not an expert, and 12 because Respondents represented themselves as experts in the field of investments.

13 30. Respondents continued trading and/or maintaining the unsuitable positions, despite
14 increasing evidence relating to the worsening financial condition of the positions in Claimant's accounts,
15 constituted a continuing fraud by Respondents as Respondents repeatedly provided assurance with respect
16 to the limited risk associated with the investments provided by Respondents.

17 31. Respondents represented as Claimant's fiduciaries that an investigation would be
18 undertaken into the trading in the account to assure that all positions remained suitable and that Claimant
19 would be advised of all findings. At the time these representations were made, Respondents did not 20 intend to act faithfully as Claimant's fiduciaries or to investigate and report to Claimant. Rather,
21 Respondents intended to conceal Claimant's claims, lull and frustrate Claimant into inaction and to 22 otherwise engage in conduct designed to protect their own interests and to conceal Claimant's claims and 23 frustrate Claimant's ability to obtain just compensation.

24 32. As a direct and proximate result of Respondents' fraud, Claimant has suffered damages
25 in excess of $1,000,000. In addition, Respondents acted towards Claimant with fraud, malice and 26 oppression such that Claimant is entitled to recover punitive and exemplary damages in an amount as 27 shall abide the discretion of the arbitration panel.
28

1 D. FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

2 (Breach of Fiduciary Duty and Constructive Fraud)

3 Claimant realleges and incorporates by reference each and every one of the above allegations as
4 if fully set forth herein.

5 33. Respondents, together and separately, owed Claimant a fiduciary duty. Claimant reposed
6 trust and confidence in Respondents to act with the utmost good faith for their benefit in handling their 7 investment accounts. Respondents breached their fiduciary duty of good faith, loyalty, fair dealing and 8 the highest degree of care for which they are jointly and severally liable.

9 34 Instead of loyalty and good faith, Respondents systematically undermined those goals by 10 activities intended to serve their own economic interests, including engaging in unauthorized transactions,
11 self-dealing, and misrepresenting and concealing material facts.

12 35. Further, Respondents' recommendations were not for the primary purpose of serving
13 Claimant, but for using Claimant's assets and trust to earn excessive commissions, margin interest
14 payments and compensation, wrongfully eroding Claimant's principal and income stream.

15 36. Traditionally, stock brokers and brokerage firms have a fiduciary duty to their clients.
16 Moreover, when financial firms not only undertake transactions on behalf of their clients, but also receive
17 and maintain the deposits of investors as professionally licensed firms under investment and safekeeping
18 arrangements, they further manifest such fiduciary relations. Respondents stood in a fiduciary
19 relationship with Claimant and, as a result of this relationship, they owed Claimant the highest possible
20 duty of care and loyalty. See Twomey v. Mitchum, Jones & Templeton, Inc. (1968) 262 Cal.App.2d 690,
21 719; Hobbs v. Bateman Eichler, Hill Richards, Inc. (1985) 164 Cal.App.3d 174, 201. Claimant trusted
22 Respondents and relied upon their expertise and advice to accomplish their investment goals
23 Unfortunately, Claimant's reliance and trust proved to be misplaced

24 37. As "bailees," Respondents were entrusted with the bulk of Claimant's assets, thus they 25 owed Claimant a fiduciary duty to care for those assets. Fiduciaries have an affirmative duty to maintain 26 the interests of those to whom they owe such duty and to disclose all the circumstances surrounding 27 transactions. Thus, Respondents owed a fiduciary duty to Claimant to provide accurate and complete 28 information with respect to Claimant's account and securities purchased in Claimant's account and an

1 affirmative duty to discover and disclose damage being done in Claimant's account.

2 38. Moreover, Respondents were responsible for supervising the activities of Respondent
3 MANOR. As a result of this responsibility, all other Respondents are jointly and severally liable by way
4 of their own negligence for any breach of fiduciary duty which was committed by Respondents'
5 representatives. Respondents had far superior knowledge than Claimant, and were in a superior position
6 to observe the activities of Respondent MANOR concerning the transactions which took place in
7 Claimant's accounts. Respondents were well aware of problems which occurred in their industry,
8 particularly with respect to the highly unpredictable and illiquid CMO, CDO and derivative markets, and
9 were in a position to take precautions which would have prevented the losses or the extent of the losses
10 to Claimant.

11 39. Instead, Respondents were self-dealing, as they took no action while they were directly 12 receiving the benefits of commissions, margin interest and other fees which were being charged on the 13 improper transactions in Claimant's account. Claims may be brought against fiduciaries for self-dealing,
14 whether or not there was actual fraud involved, for legal or constructive fraud and unjust enrichment.

15 40. Under the common law, the NASD Rules, and Title 10, California Code of Regulations,
16 § 260 218 2, Respondents had a duty to ensure that Claimant was fully informed of how their funds were 17 to be invested, and to ensure that the investments were restricted to securities which were consistent with 18 Claimant's investment objectives.

19 41. In addition, NASD Conduct Rule 2310, commonly referred to as the "suitability rule,"
20 expressly provides that: In recommending to a customer the purchase, sale or exchange of any security,
21 a member shall have reasonable ground for believing that the recommendation is suitable for such
22 customer. Respondents breached this duty. NYSE Rule 405 is broader, and requires the Respondents 23 to exercise due diligence for both recommendations and unsolicited orders.

24 42. As a direct and proximate result of the foregoing bad faith, disloyalty, deception and waste,
25 Claimant was grievously harmed, and seeks relief as hereinafter set forth. Respondents acted toward 26 Claimant with fraud, malice and oppression and Claimant is entitled to recover punitive and exemplary
27 damages in an amount that shall abide the discretion of the arbitration panel.
28

1 E. FIFTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

2 (VIOLATION BY ALL RESPONDENTS OF CALIFORNIA BUSINESS &
3 PROFESSIONS CODE SECTIONS 17200 ET SEQ.)

4 43. Claimant realleges and incorporates by reference each and every one of the above
5 allegations as if fully set forth herein.

6 44. As a separate and distinct violation of California law and NASD rules, Respondents'
7 unlawful course of conduct and omissions and misrepresentations of material facts concerning the
8 securities which they aggressively and fraudulently marketed and maintained in Claimant's account
9 constitute unfair sales practices. In particular, but without limitation, by using unfair sales tactics,
10 failing to properly disclose the risks associated with the derivative investments, by making unwarranted
11 and fraudulent claims and material omissions of material fact about the securities sold, by providing false
12 and misleading pricing information and account statements, by unilaterally diminishing the value of the 13 derivatives, and by unlawfully triggering massive margin calls Respondents violated California Business
14 and Professions Code 17200 et seq. and NASD Conduct Rules 2110 and 2310.

15 F. SIXTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

16 (Negligence, Gross Negligence and Negligent Misrepresentation)

17 45. Claimant realleges and incorporates by reference each and every one of the above
18 allegations as if fully set forth herein.

19 46. Respondents, and each of them, owed Claimant the duty of due care. Respondents
20 breached that duty by making and participating in the making of various untrue statements of material
21 facts and the omissions of material facts necessary in order to make the statements made, in light of all
22 the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading. The misrepresentations and omissions
23 occurred in connection with securities transactions and the status of securities in Claimant's account

24 47. Respondents are jointly and severally liable for failing to fulfill their statutory and 25 regulatory duties, and by failing to follow the express directions of Claimant.

26 48. Fundamental to Respondents' duty of care, was the responsibility for fair dealing with 27 customers, as more particularly described in the NYSE and NASD Conduct Rules. Respondents' actions
28 with respect to Claimant's accounts were characterized by such continuing breaches of their obligations

1 to Claimant as to constitute wanton and reckless disregard of the standards of conduct contained in the
 2 NYSE and NASD Rules, and common law. For example, under NASD Conduct Rule 2110, a member,
 3 in the conduct of their business, shall observe high standards of commercial honor and just and equitable
 4 principles of trade. Respondents' conduct, acting in their self-interest in the wrongful activity, fell far
 5 short of this standard.

6 49. Furthermore, NASD Conduct Rule IM-2310-2(b)(4) describes unauthorized transactions
 7 as sanctionable conduct, and NASD Conduct Rule 2120 prohibits the purchase or sale of any security by
 8 use of manipulative, deceptive, or other fraudulent device or contrivance.

9 50. There was ample evidence in the account records that something was amiss. In failing to 10 respond to it, Respondents failed to fulfill their responsibility under NASD Conduct Rule 3010, to
 11 establish and maintain a system to supervise the activities of each registered representative, that is 12 reasonably designed to achieve compliance with applicable laws, regulations and NASD Rules. The 13 losses suffered by Claimant would not have taken place had proper procedures been in place. Therefore,
 14 Respondents breached their duty of care by not properly supervising Claimant's account. Respondents,
 15 by their failure to detect and prevent the ongoing mismanagement and exploitation of the Claimant's
 16 accounts, failed to reasonably supervise Respondent MANOR or otherwise allow MANOR to properly
 17 advise Claimant.

18 51. The wrongful acts were made possible because of the inadequacy of Respondents'
 19 procedures and their failure to follow those procedures. Such fraud and mismanagement of Claimant's
 20 accounts could not have occurred if Respondents had in place procedures, and a system for applying such 21 procedures, which could have reasonably been expected to prevent or detect the wrongdoing; if
 22 Respondents reasonably discharged the duties incumbent upon them by reason of its procedures and
 23 systems. As a result, Claimant was repeatedly deceived and subjected to self-serving trading practices,
 24 to their considerable financial detriment.

25 52. Claims for negligent misrepresentation may be sought against those who make partial
 26 disclosures which give an investor the feeling of security, without further explanation. Respondents
 27 communicated to Claimant, which was rightfully relied upon, that Claimant's funds would be placed into 28 safe and secure investments in insured accounts, and that BROOKSTREET and FIDELITY were

1 conservative and diligent securities firms, and therefore, that Claimant should not be concerned about
2 the status of their funds or the securities purchased in their accounts.

3 53. Respondents also violated §15(b)(4)(E) of the Securities Exchange Act, and NASD
4 Conduct Rule 3010 and NYSE Rule 405. Furthermore, Respondents are responsible for the conduct of 5 Respondent MANOR under common law principles of Respondeat Superior and agency.

6 54. Moreover, Respondents were responsible for supervising the activities of Respondents
7 BROOKSTREET and MANOR. As a result of this responsibility, Respondents are jointly and
8 severally liable by way of their own negligence for any breach of fiduciary duty which was committed
9 by their BROOKSTREET or MANOR. Respondents had far superior knowledge than Claimant, and 10 were in a superior position to observe the activities of Respondents BROOKSTREET and MANOR
11 concerning the transactions which took place in Claimant's accounts. Meanwhile, Respondents were 12 well aware of problems which occur in their industry and were in a position to take precautions which 13 would have prevented the losses or the extent of the losses to Claimant.

14 55. Therefore, Respondents negligently and recklessly breached their duty of care owed to 15 Claimant. As a direct and proximate result of the Respondents' breach of their duties, and the wanton and 16 willful conduct of Respondents FIDELITY, BROOKSTREET, BROOKS, POPPER and MANOR, with 17 the other Respondents' complicity or reckless disregard of their responsibilities, Claimant was grievously
18 harmed, and seeks relief as hereinafter set forth, including punitive and exemplary damages, and attorneys 19 fees and costs.

20 G. SEVENTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

21 (Breach of Contract, and Breach Of Covenant Of Good Faith and Fair 22 Dealing)

23 56. Claimant realleges and incorporates by reference each and every one of the above
24 allegations as if fully set forth herein.

25 57. Claimant entered into contracts with Respondents whereby Respondents agreed to act as 26 Claimant's fiduciaries and agents and to conduct themselves and manage Claimant's accounts in 27 accordance with rules, regulations, customs and usages of the securities industry and in accordance with 28 all federal and state laws and regulations. All applicable laws are implied into every contract. In

 2 Claimant. There is inherent in the relationship between the dealer and their customer the vital
 3 representation that the customer will be dealt with fairly and in accordance with the standards of the 4 profession.

5 58. Respondents have breached the express and implied terms of their contract of 6 representation with Claimant by failing to invest Claimant's funds consistently with their instructions and 7 Respondents' representations. Respondents jointly and severally made false statements of material fact
 8 and failed to disclose material facts to Claimant and otherwise engaged in self dealing to the substantial 9 detriment of Claimant.

10 59. By virtue of the wrongs and violations of law set forth above, Respondents breached the 11 contract between Respondents and Claimant, more particularly the covenant of good faith and fair dealing 12 which is implied by law into each contractual and fiduciary relationship

13 60. As a direct and proximate result of the breach of contract, and the breach of the covenant
 14 of good faith and fair dealing, Claimant was grievously harmed and seeks relief as set forth herein.

15 H. EIGHTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

16 (Elder Abuse)

17 Claimants reallege and incorporate by reference each and every one of the above allegations
 18 as if fully set forth herein.

19 61. At all relevant times herein, Claimant's principals were elder(s) as that term is defined in 20 California Welfare & Institutions Code §15610.27 or dependents and are therefore entitled to protection
 21 provided by California's Elder Abuse Protection Act commencing at Welfare & Institutions Code §15600
 22 et seq. Abuse of an elder or dependant adult includes financial abuse. See Welfare & Institutions Code 23 §15610.07.

24 Welfare & Institutions Code §15610.30 provides in relevant part that:

25 (a) "Financial abuse" of an elder or dependent adult occurs when a person or entity
 26 does any of the following:

27 (1) Takes, secretes, appropriates, or retains real or personal property of an elder or 28 dependent adult to a wrongful use or with intent to defraud, or both.

- 1 (2) Assists in taking, secreting, appropriating, or retaining real or personal property
- 2 of an elder or dependent adult to a wrongful use or with intent to defraud, or both
- 3 (b) A person or entity shall be deemed to have taken, secreted, appropriated, or retained
- 4 property for a wrongful use if, among other things, the person or entity takes, secretes,
- 5 appropriates or retains possession of property in bad faith.
- 6 (1) A person or entity shall be deemed to have acted in bad faith if the person or entity
- 7 knew or should have known that the elder or dependent adult had the right to have
- 8 the property transferred or made readily available to the elder or dependent adult
- 9 or to his or her representative.
- 10 (2) For purposes of this section, a person or entity should have known of a right
- 11 specified in paragraph (1) if, on the basis of the information received by the person
- 12 or entity or the person or entity's authorized third party, or both, it is obvious to
- 13 a reasonable person that the elder or dependent adult has a right specified in
- 14 paragraph (1).

15 As set forth above, Respondents were bailees entrusted with hundreds of thousands of dollars of 16 Claimant's assets, thus owing Claimant's principals a fiduciary duty to care for those assets. Thus,
17 Respondents owed a fiduciary duty to Claimant to exercise reasonable care to protect their interests and 18 an affirmative duty to discover and disclose damage being done in Claimant's accounts. Respondents
19 received Claimant's assets based in part on false representations that the funds would be invested in 20 suitable securities consistent with Claimant's investment objectives. Respondents also withheld material
21 information from Claimant in order to mislead them regarding the risks and activities implemented in 22 their accounts by Respondents. Respondents were aware of the wrongful activities which allowed them
23 to receive the benefit of money extracted from activity in Claimant's accounts. Such misrepresentations
24 and omissions were made willfully, maliciously, recklessly and in bad faith with the specific intent to 25 induce reliance and to defraud Claimant. Claimant trusted Respondents and relied upon their 26 misrepresentations and omissions. Claimant consequently principals was damaged by such reliance

27 As a direct and proximate result of Respondents' actions, Claimant and its principals were 28 grievously harmed and seek relief as hereinafter set forth, including exemplary damages, treble damages,

1 and attorneys' fees and costs.

2 III. PRAYER

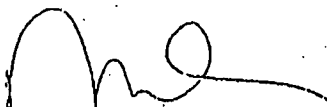

3 Wherefore Claimant prays for an Award as follows:

- 4 1. Damages in an amount exceeding $1,000,000;

 5 BROOKSTREET

6 II. FACTS

7 6. Beginning in and about January 2002 RESPONDENTS solicited CLAIMANTS to entrust
 8 the bulk of CLAIMANTS' net worth to RESPONDENTS. In soliciting Claimants business
 9 RESPONDENTS represented that RESPONDENTS were amongst the most conservative and trusted
 10 brokerage firms, that RESPONDENTS would care for their money conservatively and that CLAIMANTS
 11 should trust MANOR as family - particularly given their strong mutual religious affiliation and cultural 12 relationship.

13 7. In or about 2002, RESPONDENTS opened accounts in CLAIMANTS names.
 14 CLAIMANTS instructed and RESPONDENTS agreed to invest the funds in only the most conservative
 15 investments with the primary investment objective of preservation of capital and maximizing low risk
 16 income. The accounts became predominated by securities represented by Respondents to be the most 17 conservative Fixed Income holdings such as Government issued or backed bonds. RESPONDENTS
 18 knew that the accounts were intended to hold conservative positions which primarily preserved principal.
 19 Notwithstanding, RESPONDENTS engaged in unauthorized, unsuitable and excessive high risk 20 trading, as discussed more fully below.

21 8. RESPONDENTS engaged in an excessive, unsuitable and unauthorized trading pattern
 22 that was concentrated through May 2007 in highly speculative derivative products, including but not 23 limited to purported mortgage backed securities (CMOs) and collateralized debt obligations (CDOs), in 24 which Respondents maintained undisclosed interests. By way of example and without limitation,
 25 RESPONDENTS invested CLAIMANTS' funds that were earmarked for conservative fixed income
 26 investments - on margin - in such highly speculative and unpredictable issues as "GNMA REMIC Pass
 27 Through Certificates", "FNMA Pass Through Certificates", "Federal Home Loan Mortgage Association-
 28 Multi-Class Partnership Certificates Guaranteed Inverse Floaters", "Structured Asset Securities Series

1 Inverse Floaters", "Master Asset Securities Trust Series", "GUARANTEED REMIC PASS THROUGH
 2 CERTIFICATES COUPON PAYMENT MONTHLY", various "Inverse" and/or "Reverse Floaters" and
 3 so on. By June 2007 the "values" of the CMOs, CDOs and/or derivatives in CLAIMANTS' accounts
 4 were unilaterally and substantially marked down by RESPONDENT FIDELITY, triggering margin calls
 5 that decimated CLAIMANTS accounts. The loss to CLAIMANTS' accounts arising from the unlawful 6 conduct of RESPONDENTS is believed to exceed $2,000,000.

7 9. At a time unknown to Claimants, RESPONDENT FIDELITY entered a clearing contract
 8 with BROOKSTREET and thereby obtained the benefits of receiving fees and margin interest in
 9 connection with Claimants' and other Brookstreet client accounts. All of CLAIMANTS' retirement funds
 10 were held in accounts that were set up and maintained by RESPONDENT FIDELITY. All transactions
 11 in Claimants accounts were executed for a fee by RESPONDENT FIDELITY and RESPONDENT
 12 FIDELITY profited in the amount of millions of dollars from unlawful and unsuitable Brookstreet client
 13 margin accounts under the custody of RESPONDENT FIDELITY.

14 10. The FIDELITY RESPONDENTS owed CLAIMANTS a fiduciary duty with respect to 15 the services provided by them to CLAIMANTS. Amongst the services that the FIDELITY
 16 RESPONDENTS undertook to provide and owed a fiduciary duty to provide was the establishment of 17 the account, execution of securities transactions and reporting to CLAIMANTS the execution of securities
 18 transactions and the status of CLAIMANTS accounts, including, inter alia, the value of the securities held
 19 in the accounts. The FIDELITY RESPONDENTS were the primary source, and often only source, of 20 information with respect to the value of the securities purchased in CLAIMANTS' accounts. The 21 FIDELITY RESPONDENTS had a fiduciary duty to provide accurate information with respect to the 22 value of CLAIMANTS accounts and the securities in the accounts.

23 11. Amongst the documents issued by the RESPONDENTS pursuant to the fiduciary duty
 24 to CLAIMANTS were monthly account statements reflecting the cash position and the securities held as 25 well as the amount and value of the securities. The monthly statements also contained representations
 26 with respect to the value of the CLAIMANTS accounts in aggregate. The monthly account statements 27 systematically overstated the value of the securities and the accounts.

12. The FIDELITY RESPONDENTS were aware, as the clearing firm for Brookstreet, that Brookstreet and its clients had, through the income investments it concentrated its business in, tremendous exposure not only to the mortgage market but also to the much more risky sub-prime market. The FIDELITY RESPONDENTS were further aware that the prevailing practice at Brookstreet was to purchase and/or hold in client accounts extremely risky income producing mortgage backed securities such as COLLATERALIZED MORTGAGE OBLIGATIONS ("CMOs"), CDOs and other derivatives on margin, utilizing credit extended by the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS. The risk was so extreme that the investment strategy was unsuitable for virtually everyone, and could only exist as an artifice to defraud and as a scheme to defraud.

13. Despite the risk, the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS determined to aid the scheme to defraud by providing margin credit on which it would profit and inaccurate information with respect to securities values purchased or held in accounts of clients of Brookstreet, such as Claimants.

14. The FIDELITY RESPONDENTS knew that Brookstreet routinely advised its clients to invest in illiquid and risky fixed income products, such as CMOs, CDOs and derivatives. The risk to CLAIMANTS and other clients associated with the illiquid fixed income products was exacerbated and magnified by the practice of purchasing and holding fixed income positions using margin credit extended by the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS. As the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS income and profit from CLAIMANTS and other investor accounts was dependent on the margin interest balances and interest generated by the accounts, the interests of the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS were in conflict with the fiduciary obligation of the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS to CLAIMANTS and other account holders to accurately provide information concerning the underlying financial instruments, including but not limited to CMO's, other derivative products comprised of aspects of sub-prime and other mortgages, CDOs and other derivatives.

15. The FIDELITY RESPONDENTS routinely and systematically misrepresented the value of the securities in CLAIMANTS' accounts by knowingly and intentionally grossly overstating the value of the securities. The overstated values assigned by the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS concealed the effect of the unsuitable transactions executed in CLAIMANTS' accounts and provided false confidence to CLAIMANTS that the accounts could continue to invest in and hold income investments offered and sold

1 through RESPONDENTS BROOKSTREET and the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS. The FIDELITY
2 RESPONDENTS systematic overstatement of the value of securities to Claimants and other clients of 3 the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS through Brookstreet was a necessary element of the scheme and artifice
4 to defraud.

5 16. CLAIMANTS reasonably relied on the values assigned to the investments in the account
6 by the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS that created an air of stability and suitability and continued to invest
7 in additional similar products. CLAIMANTS were unaware of the risks associated with the positions in 8 the accounts. Had CLAIMANTS been aware of the risk and magnitude of the risks of the securities sold
9 through RESPONDENTS BROOKSTREET and the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS, CLAIMANTS would 10 NOT have entered and/or maintained the positions.

11 17. In June 2007, the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS suddenly and drastically assigned lower 12 values to the CMOs, CDOs and similar products resulting in margin calls that immediately caused
13 RESPONDENT BROOKSTREET to shut down and cease meaningful operations. The margin calls
14 issued by the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS created a negative net worth for RESPONDENT
15 BROOKSTREET SECURITIES and caused the collapse of RESPONDENT BROOKSTREET resulting 16 in the institution of NASD and SEC investigations. The sudden drastic devaluation by the FIDELITY
17 RESPONDENTS was unforeseeable to Claimants and did not allow investors the opportunity to sell
18 positions. The FIDELITY RESPONDENTS acted at all times to maximize its own income and profit
19 and purposefully deceived Claimants with respect to the value of the securities that they were purchasing 20 and had purchased.

21 18. As a direct and proximate cause of RESPONDENTS fraud, breach of fiduciary duty,
22 negligence, deceit and unfair business practices, CLAIMANTS have been damaged in an amount
23 exceeding $2,000,000

1 III. CLAIMS FOR RELIEF

2 A. FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF

3 (Violation of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, §10(b), §20, and Rule 10b-5;
4 Securities Act of 1933, §12, §15; Liability of Principal for Acts of Agent; Respondent
5 Superior)

6 19. CLAIMANTS reallege and incorporate by reference each and every one of the above
7 allegations as if fully set forth herein. RESPONDENTS practice of selling risky CMO, derivative and 8 similar income investments based upon representations that they were safe and without disclosing the 9 highly complex and risky nature while encouraging clients such as Claimants to invest on margin acted
10 as a scheme and artifice to defraud clients such as Claimants herein. As the scheme and artifice to defraud 11 required clearing services to pass ownership of the securities and misrepresentations of the value of the 12 securities, as previously alleged, the FIDELITY RESPONDENTS were sellers, participants in and control
13 persons with respect to the scheme and artifice to defraud and the misrepresentations pursuant thereto.

14 20. The acts and course of conduct by RESPONDENTS constituted manipulative and 15 deceptive devices, schemes or contrivances to defraud Claimants. Respondents and their agents,
16 singularly or in concert, engaged in a course of conduct, and violated § 10(b) of the Securities Exchange
17 Act of 1934, and Rule 10b-5 as promulgated thereunder, and §12 of the Securities Act of 1933, pursuant 18 to which they knowingly and recklessly engaged in acts, transactions, and practices, particularly failure
19 to follow Claimants instructions, which operated as a fraud upon Claimants, and made various untrue
20 statements of material facts and omitted to state material facts necessary in order to make the statements
21 made, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading to Claimants.
22 Respondents acted with scienter.

23 21. Respondents were involved in the sale of securities to Claimants, using Claimants funds.
24 In making such sales, Respondents made material misrepresentations and omissions of material fact, in 25 violation of Rule 10b-5. Such misrepresentations and omissions were made willfully, maliciously and 26 recklessly with the specific intent to induce reliance and to defraud Claimants. CLAIMANTS relied upon 27 RESPONDENTS misrepresentations and omissions. CLAIMANTS consequently were damaged by such 28 reliance.

22. Claimants further alleges that Respondents are vicariously liable under §15 of the Securities Act of 1933, and § 20(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. During the subject period, when Claimants suffered financial injury, Respondents BROOKS, POPPER and BROOKSTREET's officers and directors acted as controlling persons of Respondents BROOKSTREET and MANOR, the primary instrument of Respondents' wrongful acts, and Claimants brokers. Respondent BROOKSTREET served as the broker-dealer for its registered representative Respondent MANOR and others, and provided its registered representatives access to the securities markets. At all times, RESPONDENTS knowingly directed and indirectly controlled or had the ability to control, participated with or materially assisted Respondent MANOR in the commission of a statutory, regulatory and common law violations, as set forth in this Statement of Claim. Respondents are, therefore, jointly and severally liable to the same extent as their agent, Respondent MANOR.

23. Respondents FIDELITY, NATIONAL FINANCIAL, BROOKSTREET and its officers and directors are liable for all actions of each other and their (agents, directors, officers and attorneys). (Respondeat Superior and control person liability). In addition, under the common law, principals are liable for the actions of their agents. At all times relevant RESPONDENTS, and each of them acted as agents of each other in committing the wrongful acts and in failing to act in a lawful manner.

24. As a direct and proximate result of the foregoing and willful misrepresentations, fraud, and deceit, Claimants suffered losses in excess of $2,00,000 and were grievously harmed and seek relief as hereinafter set forth. Respondents acted with malice, oppression and fraud towards Claimants and Claimants are entitled to recover punitive and exemplary damages in an amount as shall abide the discretion of the arbitration panel.

B. SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Violation of Cal. Corporations Code § 25401, 25501, and 25504)

CLAIMANTS reallege and incorporate by reference each and every one of the above allegations as if fully set forth herein.

25. California Corporations Code § 25401 provides that:

It is unlawful for any person to offer or sell a security in this state by means of any written or oral communication which includes an untrue statement of material fact or omits to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements made, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading

26 Under Corp. Code § 25501, "any person who violates Section 25401 shall be liable to the person who purchases a security from him or sells a security to him . . . unless the defendant proves that the plaintiff knew the facts concerning the untruth or omission or that the defendant exercised reasonable care and did not know . . . of the untruth or omission."

27. As set forth above, and as will be demonstrated at the arbitration of this matter, the facts will show that RESPONDENTS knew of the falsity of their assertions. The facts will further demonstrate that RESPONDENTS withheld material information from Claimants in order to mislead it and induce the sale of the securities referenced above.

28 All Respondents are jointly and severally liable for their agents' misrepresentations and omissions of material fact pursuant to the provisions of Cal. Corp. Code § 25504, since all Respondents participated in and directly or indirectly controlled the misrepresentations and omissions of material fact. As a direct and proximate cause of Respondents' violations of the Corporate Securities Law of 1968, claimants suffered investment losses in excess of $2,000,000.

C. THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Common Law Fraud, Conspiracy to Defraud and Aiding and Abetting Fraud)

Claimants reallege and incorporate by reference each and every one of the above allegations as if fully set forth herein.

29. RESPONDENTS represented that funds would be invested in securities consistent with Claimants' investment objectives. RESPONDENTS willfully failed to advise Claimants of the high level of risk associated with the activities taking place in the account. RESPONDENTS were aware of the wrongful activities, or were reckless in permitting them to continue, in order to receive the benefit of the commissions, fees and interest associated with such sales, and to profit from the trades in CLAIMANTS' accounts. CLAIMANTS trusted RESPONDENTS, and relied exclusively upon their representations. CLAIMANTS' reliance on RESPONDENTS' statements was reasonable under the circumstances since CLAIMANTS were not experts, and because RESPONDENTS represented themselves as experts in the field of investments.

30. RESPONDENTS continued trading and/or maintaining the unsuitable positions, despite

1 increasing evidence relating to the worsening financial condition of the positions in Claimants accounts,
 2 constituted a continuing fraud by RESPONDENTS as RESPONDENTS repeatedly provided assurance
 3 with respect to the limited risk associated with the investments provided by RESPONDENTS.

4 31. RESPONDENTS represented, as Claimants fiduciaries, that an investigation would be
 5 undertaken into the trading in the account to assure that all positions remained suitable and that Claimants
 6 would be advised of all findings. At the time these representations were made, Respondents did not intend
 7 to act faithfully as Claimants fiduciaries or to investigate and report to Claimants. Rather, Respondents
 8 intended to conceal Claimants claims, lull and frustrate Claimants into inaction and to otherwise engage
 9 in conduct designed to protect their own interests and to conceal Claimants claims and frustrate Claimants
 10 ability to obtain just compensation.

11 32. As a direct and proximate result of Respondents fraud, Claimants have suffered damages
 12 in excess of $2,000,000. In addition, Respondents acted towards Claimant with fraud, malice and
 13 oppression such that Claimant is entitled to recover punitive and exemplary damages in an amount as shall 14 abide the discretion of the arbitration panel.

15 D. FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

16 (Breach of Fiduciary Duty and Constructive Fraud)

17 CLAIMANTS reallege and incorporate by reference each and every one of the above allegations
 18 as if fully set forth herein.

19 33. RESPONDENTS, together and separately, owed Claimants a fiduciary duty. Claimants
 20 reposed trust and confidence in Respondents to act with the utmost good faith for their benefit in handling
 21 their investment accounts. Respondents breached their fiduciary duty of good faith, loyalty, fair dealing 22 and the highest degree of care for which they are jointly and severally liable.

23 34. Instead of loyalty and good faith, Respondents systematically undermined those goals by 24 activities intended to serve their own economic interests, including engaging in unauthorized transactions,
 25 self-dealing, and misrepresenting and concealing material facts.

26 35. Further, Respondents' recommendations were not for the primary purpose of serving
 27 Claimants, but for using Claimants assets and trust to earn excessive commissions, margin interest
 28 payments and compensation, wrongfully eroding Claimants principal and income stream.

1 36 Traditionally, stock brokers and brokerage firms have a fiduciary duty to their clients.
 2 Moreover, when financial firms not only undertake transactions on behalf of their clients, but also receive
 3 and maintain the deposits of investors as professionally licensed firms under investment and safekeeping
 4 arrangements, they further manifest such fiduciary relations. Respondents stood in a fiduciary relationship
 5 with Claimants and, as a result of this relationship, they owed Claimants the highest possible duty of care
 6 and loyalty. See Twomey v. Mitchum, Jones & Templeton, Inc. (1968) 262 Cal.App.2d 690, 719; Hobbs
 7 v. Bateman Eichler, Hill Richards, Inc. (1985) 164 Cal.App.3d 174, 201. Claimants trusted Respondents
 8 and relied upon their expertise and advice to accomplish their investment goals. Unfortunately, Claimants
 9 reliance and trust proved to be misplaced.

10 37. As "bailees," Respondents were entrusted with the bulk of Claimants assets, thus they owed
 11 Claimants a fiduciary duty to care for those assets. Fiduciaries have an affirmative duty to maintain the 12 interests of those to whom they owe such duty and to disclose all the circumstances surrounding 13 transactions. Thus, RESPONDENTS owed a fiduciary duty to Claimants to provide accurate and 14 complete information with respect to Claimants account and securities purchased in Claimants accounts
 15 and an affirmative duty to discover and disclose damage being done in Claimants account.

16 38. Moreover, RESPONDENTS were responsible for supervising the activities of Respondent
 17 MANOR. As a result of this responsibility, all other Respondents are jointly and severally liable by way
 18 of their own negligence for any breach of fiduciary duty which was committed by Respondents'
 19 representatives. Respondents had far superior knowledge than Claimants, and were in a superior position
 20 to observe the activities of Respondent MANOR concerning the transactions which took place in 21 Claimants accounts. Respondents were well aware of problems which occurred in their industry,
 22 particularly with respect to the highly unpredictable and illiquid CMO, CDOs and derivative markets, and
 23 were in a position to take precautions which would have prevented the losses or the extent of the losses
 24 to Claimants.

25 39 Instead, RESPONDENTS were self-dealing, as they took no action while they were 26 directly receiving the benefits of commissions, margin interest and other fees which were being charged
 27 on the improper transactions in Claimants accounts. Claims may be brought against fiduciaries for self-
 28 dealing, whether or not there was actual fraud involved, for legal or constructive fraud and unjust

1 enrichment.

2 40. Under the common law, the NASD Rules, and Title 10, California Code of Regulations,
3 § 260.218.2, Respondents had a duty to ensure that Claimants were fully informed of how their funds
4 were to be invested, and to ensure that the investments were restricted to securities which were consistent
5 with Claimants investment objectives.

6 41. In addition, NASD Conduct Rule 2310, commonly referred to as the "suitability rule,"
7 expressly provides that: In recommending to a customer the purchase, sale or exchange of any security,
8 a member shall have reasonable ground for believing that the recommendation is suitable for such 9 customer. Respondents breached this duty. NYSE Rule 405 is broader, and requires the Respondents to 10 exercise due diligence for both recommendations and unsolicited orders.

11 42. As a direct and proximate result of the foregoing bad faith, disloyalty, deception and waste,
12 Claimants were grievously harmed, and seek relief as hereinafter set forth. Respondents acted toward 13 Claimants with fraud, malice and oppression and Claimants are entitled to recover punitive and exemplary
14 damages in an amount that shall abide the discretion of the arbitration panel.

15 E. FIFTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

16 (VIOLATION BY ALL RESPONDENTS OF CALIFORNIA BUSINESS &
17 PROFESSIONS CODE SECTIONS 17200 ET SEQ.)

18 43. Claimants reallege and incorporate by reference each and every one of the above allegations
19 as if fully set forth herein.

20 44. As a separate and distinct violation of California law and NASD rules, RESPONDENTS'
21 unlawful course of conduct and omissions and misrepresentations of material facts concerning the
22 securities which they aggressively and fraudulently marketed and maintained in Claimants' accounts
23 constitute unfair sales practices. In particular, but without limitation, by using unfair sales tactics, failing
24 to properly disclose the risks associated with the derivative investments, by making unwarranted and 25 fraudulent claims and material omissions of material fact about the securities sold, by providing false and 26 misleading pricing information and account statements, by suddenly and unilaterally diminishing the value
27 of the derivatives, and by unlawfully triggering massive margin calls, RESPONDENTS violated
28 California Business and Professions Code 17200 et seq and NASD Conduct Rules 2110 and 2310.

1 F. SIXTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

2 (Negligence, Gross Negligence and Negligent Misrepresentation)

3 45. Claimants reallege and incorporate by reference each and every one of the above allegations
4 as if fully set forth herein.

5 46. Respondents, and each of them, owed Claimants the duty of due care. Respondents
6 breached that duty by making and participating in the making of various untrue statements of material facts
7 and the omissions of material facts necessary in order to make the statements made, in light of all the 8 circumstances under which they were made, not misleading. The misrepresentations and omissions
9 occurred in connection with securities transactions and the status of securities in Claimants accounts.

10 47. Respondents are jointly and severally liable for failing to fulfill their statutory and 11 regulatory duties, and by failing to follow the express directions of Claimants.

12 48. Fundamental to Respondents' duty of care, was the responsibility for fair dealing with 13 customers, as more particularly described in the NYSE and NASD Conduct Rules. Respondents' actions
14 with respect to Claimants accounts were characterized by such continuing breaches of their obligations
15 to Claimants as to constitute wanton and reckless disregard of the standards of conduct contained in the 16 NYSE and NASD Rules, and common law. For example, under NASD Conduct Rule 2110, a member,
17 in the conduct of their business, shall observe high standards of commercial honor and just and equitable
18 principles of trade. Respondents' conduct, acting in their self-interest in the wrongful activity, fell far
19 short of this standard.

20 49. Furthermore, NASD Conduct Rule IM-2310-2(b)(4) describes unauthorized transactions
21 as sanctionable conduct, and NASD Conduct Rule 2120 prohibits the purchase or sale of any security by
22 use of manipulative, deceptive, or other fraudulent device or contrivance.

23 50. There was ample evidence in the account records that something was amiss. In failing to
24 respond to it, RESPONDENTS failed to fulfill their responsibility under NASD Conduct Rule 3010, to
25 establish and maintain a system to supervise the activities of each registered representative, that is
26 reasonably designed to achieve compliance with applicable laws, regulations and NASD Rules. The losses
27 suffered by Claimants would not have taken place had proper procedures been in place. Therefore,
28 Respondents breached their duty of care by not properly supervising Claimants account. Respondents,

1 by their failure to detect and prevent the ongoing mismanagement and exploitation of the Claimants
2 accounts, failed to reasonably supervise Respondent MANOR or otherwise allow MANOR to properly
3 advise Claimants.

4 51. The wrongful acts were made possible because of the inadequacy of Respondents'
5 procedures and their failure to follow those procedures. Such fraud and mismanagement of Claimants
6 accounts could not have occurred if Respondents had in place procedures, and a system for applying such
7 procedures, which could have reasonably been expected to prevent or detect the wrongdoing; if
8 Respondents reasonably discharged the duties incumbent upon them by reason of its procedures and
9 systems. As a result, Claimants were repeatedly deceived and subjected to self-serving trading practices,
10 to their considerable financial detriment.

11 52. Claims for negligent misrepresentation may be sought against those who make partial
12 disclosures which give an investor the feeling of security, without further explanation. Respondents
13 communicated to Claimants, which was rightfully relied upon, that Claimants funds would be placed into
14 safe and secure investments in insured accounts, and that BROOKSTREET and FIDELITY were 15 conservative and diligent securities firms, and therefore, that Claimants should not be concerned about 16 the status of their funds or the securities purchased in their accounts.

17 53. Respondents also violated §15(b)(4)(E) of the Securities Exchange Act, and NASD
18 Conduct Rule 3010 and NYSE Rule 405. Furthermore, Respondents are responsible for the conduct of 19 Respondent MANOR under common law principles of Respondeat Superior and agency.

20 54. Moreover, Respondents were responsible for supervising the activities of Respondents
21 BROOKSTREET and MANOR. As a result of this responsibility, RESPONDENTS are jointly and
22 severally liable by way of their own negligence for any breach of fiduciary duty which was committed
23 by BROOKSTREET or MANOR. Respondents had far superior knowledge than Claimants, and were 24 in a superior position to observe the activities of Respondents BROOKSTREET and MANOR concerning 25 the transactions which took place in Claimants accounts. Meanwhile, Respondents were well aware of 26 problems which occur in their industry and were in a position to take precautions which would have 27 prevented the losses or the extent of the losses to Claimants.

28 55. Therefore, RESPONDENTS negligently and recklessly breached their duty of care owed

1 to Claimants. As a direct and proximate result of the Respondents' breach of their duties, and the wanton
 2 and willful conduct of Respondents FIDELITY, BROOKSTREET, BROOKS, POPPER and MANOR,
 3 with the other Respondents' complicity or reckless disregard of their responsibilities, Claimants were 4 grievously harmed, and seeks relief as hereinafter set forth, including punitive and exemplary damages,
 5 and attorneys' fees and costs.

 7 G. SEVENTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

8 (Breach of Contract, and Breach Of Covenant Of Good Faith and Fair Dealing)

9 56. Claimants reallege and incorporate by reference each and every one of the above
 10 allegations as if fully set forth herein.

11 57. Claimants entered into contracts with Respondents whereby Respondents agreed to act
 12 as Claimants fiduciaries and agents and to conduct themselves and manage Claimants accounts in 13 accordance with rules, regulations, customs and usages of the securities industry and in accordance with 14 all federal and state laws and regulations. All applicable laws are implied into every contract. In 15 addition, in so contracting, Respondents impliedly agreed to act in good faith and deal fairly with 16 Claimants. There is inherent in the relationship between the dealer and their customer the vital
 17 representation that the customer will be dealt with fairly and in accordance with the standards of the 18 profession.

19 58. Respondents have breached the express and implied terms of their contract of 20 representation with Claimants by failing to invest Claimants funds consistently with their instructions and 21 Respondents' representations and to provide accurate and reliable information. Respondents jointly and 22 severally made false statements of material fact and failed to disclose material facts to Claimants and 23 otherwise engaged in self dealing to the substantial detriment of Claimants.

24 59. By virtue of the wrongs and violations of law set forth above, Respondents breached the 25 contract between Respondents and Claimants, more particularly the covenant of good faith and fair 26 dealing which is implied by law into each contractual and fiduciary relationship.

27 60. As a direct and proximate result of the breach of contract, and the breach of the covenant
 28 of good faith and fair dealing, Claimants were grievously harmed and seek relief as set forth herein.

1 H. EIGHTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

2 (Elder Abuse)

3 Claimants reallege and incorporate by reference each and every one of the above allegations as
4 if fully set forth herein.

5 61. At all relevant times herein, some of Claimants principals were elder(s) as that term is 6 defined in California Welfare & Institutions Code §15610.27 or dependents and are therefore entitled
7 to the protections provided by California's Elder Abuse Protection Act commencing at Welfare &
8 Institutions Code §15600 et seq. Abuse of an elder or dependant adult includes financial abuse. See 9 Welfare & Institutions Code §15610.07.

10 Welfare & Institutions Code §15610.30 provides in relevant part that:

11 (a) "Financial abuse" of an elder or dependent adult occurs when a person or entity does any 12 of the following:

13 (1) Takes, secretes, appropriates, or retains real or personal property of an elder or dependent 14 adult to a wrongful use or with intent to defraud, or both.

15 (2) Assists in taking, secreting, appropriating, or retaining real or personal property of an 16 elder or dependent adult to a wrongful use or with intent to defraud, or both.

17 (b) A person or entity shall be deemed to have taken, secreted, appropriated, or retained
18 property for a wrongful use if, among other things, the person or entity takes, secretes,
19 appropriates or retains possession of property in bad faith.

20 (1) A person or entity shall be deemed to have acted in bad faith if the person or entity knew
21 or should have known that the elder or dependent adult had the right to have the property
22 transferred or made readily available to the elder or dependent adult or to his or her 23 representative.

24 (2) For purposes of this section, a person or entity should have known of a right specified in 25 paragraph (1) if, on the basis of the information received by the person or entity or the 26 person or entity's authorized third party, or both, it is obvious to a reasonable person that 27 the elder or dependent adult has a right specified in paragraph (1).

28 As set forth above, Respondents were bailees entrusted with hundreds of thousands of dollars of

1 Claimants assets, thus owing Claimants principals a fiduciary duty to care for those assets. Thus,
 2 Respondents owed a fiduciary duty to Claimants to exercise reasonable care to protect their interests and
 3 an affirmative duty to discover and disclose damage being done in Claimants accounts. Respondents
 4 received Claimants assets based in part on false representations that the funds would be invested in
 5 suitable securities consistent with Claimants investment objectives. Respondents also withheld material
 6 information from Claimants in order to mislead them regarding the risks and activities implemented in 7 the accounts by Respondents. Respondents were aware of the wrongful activities which allowed them
 8 to receive the benefit of money extracted from activity in Claimants accounts. Such misrepresentations
 9 and omissions were made willfully, maliciously, recklessly and in bad faith with the specific intent to 10 induce reliance and to defraud Claimants. Claimants trusted Respondents and relied upon their 11 misrepresentations and omissions. Claimants were consequently damaged by such reliance.

Re: Dodger, Inc. and Gold, Inc. et al. v Brookstreet Securities Corp et al.,
FINRA Arbitration No. 07-02060
Subpoena to Interactive Data Corporation

Dear Mr. Milove:

This firm represents Interactive Data Corporation ("Interactive Data") in connection with the above-referenced arbitration subpoena, which was served upon Interactive Data on Friday, May 16, 2008. Interactive Data objects to the subpoena for the reasons set forth below.

As an initial matter, the subpoena is unreasonably broad, and would impose an enormous burden on my client, which, as you know, is not a party to the arbitration. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 45(c) (stating that "a party or attorney responsible for issuing and serving a subpoena must take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense" on the entity subpoenaed). In light of the sheer volume of documents requested and the difficulty of locating all potentially responsive documents, production of documents in response to the subpoena would be unduly time consuming and extremely expensive.

Moreover, the subpoena purports to require my client to search for and produce a potentially vast quantity of documents by May 20, two business days after service. This is a wholly unreasonable timetable, as I am sure you are aware.

Finally, and most significantly, the subpoena is unenforceable, as it purports to seek pre-hearing discovery from a non-party in connection with a FINRA arbitration proceeding subject to the Federal Arbitration Act. See 9 U.S.C. § 7. While an arbitrator may issue subpoenas requiring non-parties to appear at and bring documents to an arbitration hearing,¹ courts have held that arbitrators do not have the power to require non-parties to submit to pre-hearing discovery. See, e.g., Hay Group, Inc. v. E.B.S. Acquisition Corp., 360 F.3d 404, 411 (3rd Cir. 2004) (holding that an arbitration panel does not have the power to issue a subpoena for pre-hearing document production from a non-party); Comsat Corp. v. National Science Foundation, 190 F.3d 269, 276 (4th Cir. 1999) (holding that the arbitrator did not have the power to issue a subpoena for pre-hearing discovery to a non-party in the absence of special need). The undue breadth of the subpoena at issue here underscores the reasoning of these courts: "Under a system of pre-hearing document production, . . . there is less incentive to limit the scope of discovery and more incentive to engage in fishing expeditions that undermine some of the advantages of the supposedly shorter and cheaper system of arbitration." Hay, 360 F.3d at 109. See also Comsat, 190 F.3d at 276 ("The rationale for constraining an arbitrator's subpoena power is clear. Parties to a private arbitration agreement forego certain procedural rights attendant to formal litigation in return for a more efficient and cost-effective resolution of their dispute. A hallmark of arbitration – and a necessary precursor to its efficient operation – is a limited discovery process").

¹ Even then, however, such subpoenas may only seek items "which may be deemed material as evidence in the case." 9 U.S.C. § 7. The voluminous nature of the subpoena's requests indicates that the subpoena is not limited to documents that could be considered "material evidence," and instead is much broader.

Accordingly, Interactive Data respectfully declines to produce documents in response to the subpoena. To the extent that you file an action in federal court seeking enforcement of the subpoena, Interactive Data intends to oppose any such action. If, contrary to law and fact, such a court were to enforce the subpoena, Interactive Data would seek an order conditioning its compliance with the subpoena on your clients' payment of its costs and expenses of responding to the subpoena, including its attorneys' fees.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions about this matter.

Sincerely,

Mark W. Pearlstein

FINRA Case No. 07-02060
Subpoena to Interactive Data Corporation

Dear Mr. Pearlstein:

Reference is made to your letter dated May 20, 2008 to Mr. Milove of this firm which objects to the production of documents on behalf of Interactive Data Corporation

With respect to the argument that the request is unreasonably broad, we note that the rules of FINRA provide for the issuance of a subpoena after providing an opportunity for parties to object. The objection that the request is unreasonably broad was fully vetted and the subpoena was issued after this objection was duly considered by the Panel, which conducted an in person pre-arbitration conference in part to consider this matter on March 27, 2008. Indeed, the Panel's ruling narrowed the scope of the subpoena.

With respect to the argument that production would impose an enormous burden the argument is unsupported. We are willing to consider a claimed hardship supported by specific facts relating thereto. However, we have been provided no facts supporting the bald assertion of hardship.

With respect to the argument that the time period for production is unreasonable, we are sympathetic. The short period for production was the result of an unforeseen delay in obtaining the subpoena from FINRA after submission. We would grant reasonable time for compliance if your client was inclined to comply with the subpoena.

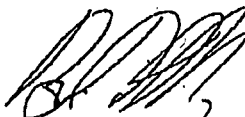

With respect to your argument that the subpoena is unenforceable as pre-hearing discovery, you cite authority which acknowledges a split in the opinions on the subject and in any event is readily distinguishable where state law, such as California, permits the issuance of the subpoena.

Re: Dodger Inc. and Gold Inc. et al. v. Brookstreet Securities Corp., et al.
FINRA Case No. 07-02060
Subpoena to Interactive Data Corporation

Dear Mr. Miller:

I am writing in response to your letter to me dated June 3, 2008.

As an initial matter, your letter indicates that the parties had the opportunity to object to the breadth of the arbitration subpoena in proceedings before the arbitration panel. However, as you know, Interactive Data Corporation ("Interactive Data") is not a party to the arbitration, and did not participate in such proceedings.

You have asked for more specific information regarding the burden that complying with the arbitration subpoena would impose on my client, and below we endeavor to supply you with details demonstrating, by way of example and without limitation, the overly broad nature of the subpoena and the unreasonable burden and expense that responding to it would impose on Interactive Data.

First, the definitions in the subpoena, which shape the document requests, are sweeping and overly inclusive. For example, the definition of "Interactive Data Corporation" or "IDC" purports to include several businesses that have no connection whatsoever to this matter, as well as their employees. Specifically, the entity that produces the evaluations is Interactive Data Pricing and Reference Data, Inc. ("PRD"). The definition of "Subject CMOs" is also enormously overbroad, as it calls for "Collateralized Mortgage Obligations, derivatives and . . . all other securities appearing in client accounts including [the 50 items specifically listed]." The PRD subsidiary of Interactive Data evaluates approximately 1.2 million mortgage related securities, out of which approximately 135,000 are CMOs. In addition, the definition includes derivatives, which is a very broad term that encompasses many types of fixed income and equity instruments. Moreover, as the definition also includes "all other securities appearing in client accounts," it purports to encompass the full universe of the more than 6 million securities that PRD covers.

Brian D. Miller, Esq.
 June 10, 2008

The document requests themselves are also unreasonably broad. Responding to them would be extremely costly and would require very substantial effort by the Company's employees and attorneys. For example, responding to the first request, which calls for "[a]ll documents relating to the pricing of the 'SUBJECT CMOs' on behalf of NFS and/or Brookstreet Securities from January 2004 through September 2007," could consume an enormous amount of time, at significant expense. NFS receives a full universe file of CMOs on a daily basis, and Interactive Data and PRD are not privy to information regarding which securities are held by NFS' clients. Accordingly, providing responsive data regarding the CMO universe would require the Company to search and review the following types of databases and sources of information:

- Nearly four years of evaluated pricing history for all securities delivered to NFS: Taking into account just the universe of CMOs (approx. 135,000 securities) this equates to well over one hundred million evaluations.
- The tracking query database: In order to research a specific security identifier and its relationship to a client, it is estimated that approximately 15 minutes would be spent per identifier to produce the available information. Therefore, to research the full universe of CMOs, approximately 33,750 hours would be required. Moreover, due to confidentiality considerations, additional time would be required in order to ensure that documents do not contain records of communications with NFS that relate to NFS clients other than Brookstreet.
- Hard copy files and data: Based on the subpoena's definitions and the breadth of the first request, all data taken into account in performing evaluations would have to be reviewed, which includes a substantial amount of proprietary data contained in hard copy files, many of which are archived. The process would be labor intensive and, due to the nature of the materials sought, would have to be performed by employees of PRD with specific subject matter expertise, causing substantial disruption to PRD's business for a protracted period of time.
- Email databases: As an initial matter, the breadth of the first request may require that employees' email files be restored. Moreover, based on the broad nature of the definitions in the subpoena, searching email files will be extremely cumbersome, particularly, for example, given difficulties in identifying every NFS employee, attorney, and agent, and given the likelihood that many such emails contain confidential or privileged information, or information regarding clients other than Brookstreet.

Brian D. Miller, Esq.

The foregoing are examples of the issues raised by just one request in the arbitration subpoena. The subpoena's other requests raise similar issues, as well as additional concerns. For example, the request for files in the possession of Interactive Data's Legal Department (Request No. 3) raises serious concerns from a privilege and attorney work product standpoint, as I am sure you can understand.

Moreover, we believe that the vast majority of the documents you seek in the arbitration subpoena are available from the parties to the arbitration. In these circumstances, it is unnecessary to obtain the same documents from my client, a non-party to the arbitration, at substantial burden and expense.

Finally, based on the case law which holds that subpoenas to non-parties for pre-hearing discovery are unenforceable in arbitration proceedings subject to the Federal Arbitration Act, 9 U.S.C. § 7, Interactive Data continues to respectfully decline to produce documents in response to the arbitration subpoena. See, e.g., Hay Group, Inc. v. E.B.S. Acquisition Corp., 360 F.3d 404, 411 (3rd Cir. 2004) (holding that an arbitration panel does not have the power to issue a subpoena for pre-hearing document production from a non-party); Comsat Corp. v. National Science Foundation, 190 F.3d 269, 276 (4th Cir. 1999) (holding that the arbitrator did not have the power to issue a subpoena for pre-hearing discovery to a non-party in the absence of special need). If you choose to file an action seeking enforcement of the arbitration subpoena, we will request that the court deny the subpoena's enforcement. In the alternative, given the unduly burdensome nature of the subpoena as discussed above, we will request that any order requiring Interactive Data to comply with the subpoena be conditioned upon your clients paying the Company's costs of complying with the subpoena.

Do not hesitate to contact me with your questions or comments.

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. Pearlstein:

We have reviewed your letter of June 10, 2008. We would have several comments with respect to the objection that the subpoena is overbroad and presents an undue burden. However, it is my understanding that even if we could persuade you that the subpoena is more narrow than your letter suggests and we could persuade you that it does not present an undue burden, your client would nonetheless refuse to produce documents in response to the subpoena.

Please let me know if my understanding is incorrect.

FINRA Case No. 07-02060
Subpoena to Interactive Data Corporation

Dear Mr. Miller:

I am writing in response to your letter to me dated June 11, 2008. As set forth in my May 20, 2008 and June 10, 2008 letters to you, the arbitration subpoena to Interactive Data Corporation ("Interactive Data") suffers from a number of infirmities, each of which would provide a sufficient ground to deny the subpoena's enforcement. Accordingly, Interactive Data respectfully declines to produce documents in response to the arbitration subpoena based on each such ground.

If you would like to discuss this matter, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Very truly yours,

Mark W. Pearlstein

CONFIDENTIAL

Dear Ms. Union,

This email is my response to your letter of June 10 enclosing

- (1) Claimant's Motion to Compel dated May 23, 2008
- (2) Respondent Brookstreet Securities Response dated May 28, 2008, and
- (3) Respondent National Financial Services's response dated June 4, 2008.

The following Order is based upon the papers and no pre-hearing conference has been held.

The Order of the Chair follows:

1. The subpoena to IDS will not be re-issued since it is unlikely that IDS will respond. Claimants may have to seek relief in the courts.
2. Miller & Milove are ordered to communicate with all parties in the same manner as they use with FINRA. This will allow for timely responses where appropriate.
3. Claimant's Counsel, Miller & Milove and Respondent's Counsel, Thelen, are ordered to reach agreement on a Confidentiality Agreement within 10 business days from receipt of the Order so Discovery may proceed in producing the agreements cited in the correspondence between the parties.
4. The Panel will not tolerate the failure of the parties to be fully and quickly responsive in discovery matters as required by FINRA regulations. A full range of sanctions is available to the Panel if necessary.
5. Claimants are ordered to produce a written narrative identifying the documents and producing those identified in the 99-90 listing and as outlined in the Thelen letter of June 4, 2008.
6. Brookstreet's custodian of records, Ms Julie Mains, is ordered to provide Claimant access to the warehouse collection of Brookstreet records at the earliest date that is acceptable to both parties but no later than 10 business days following receipt of this order. This order should be considered as the Panel's response to Mr. Fehn's letter of May 28, 2008. However, Claimants will pay for reasonable costs related to the document search.
Claimant will promptly provide copies to all parties' counsel of their requests for production and the responses thereto between Claimant and Brookstreet.
7. Brookstreet's Counsel will immediately provide to Claimant the name(s) and contact information of the "independent operator in the midwest". Counsel will also provide all pertinent Brookstreet Focus Reports as requested by Claimant. Claimants have agreed to cover reasonable retrieval costs.

I believe the above numbered items cover the matters contained in the correspondence received in your letter of June 10, 2008 and are SO ORDERED

EXHIBIT B

DECLARATION OF SIGAL LEWKOWICZ

I, Sigal Lewkowicz, declare and state as follows:

1. I am a Senior Attorney for INTERACTIVE DATA CORP. ("IDCO") and INTERACTIVE DATA PRICING AND REFERENCE DATA, INC. ("PRD").

2. I have personal knowledge of the information set forth herein or obtained it from sources within IDCO and PRD believed to be reliable.

3. IDCO is a global provider of financial market data, analytics and related services to financial institutions, active traders and individual investors. Its businesses supply real-time market data, pricing, evaluations and reference data for millions of securities traded around the world, including hard-to-value instruments.

4. PRD, a subsidiary of Respondent IDCO, is a source to the institutional investment community for market data and financial information. It collects, edits, maintains, and delivers data on more than 6 million securities, including daily evaluations for approximately 2.5 million fixed income and international equity issues.

5. IDCO and PRD are Delaware corporations with principal places of business in Bedford, Massachusetts.

6. On April 25, 2008, a subpoena was issued to IDCO and PRD in aid of a FINRA arbitration to which neither IDCO nor PRD are parties. IDCO and PRD have objected to the subpoena on a number of grounds, including the following: The subpoena is unenforceable, as it seeks pre-hearing discovery from a non-party in aid of a FINRA arbitration governed by the Federal Arbitration Act, 9 U.S.C. § 7; the subpoena provided IDCO with an unreasonably short time (two business days after service) to produce documents in response thereto; and the subpoena is vastly overbroad and would impose an undue burden and expense on IDCO and PRD. Indeed, the subpoena seeks a vast volume of documents from IDCO and PRD and, as set forth in more detail below, producing documents in response to the subpoena

1 would cost IDCO and PRD in excess of $1.6 million.

2 7. First, the subpoena's definitions are sweeping. For example, the 3 definition of "Interactive Data Corporation" or "IDCO" purports to include several 4 businesses that have no connection whatsoever to this matter, as well as their 5 employees. The only entity that produces the subject evaluations is PRD. The 6 definition of "Subject CMOs" in the subpoena is also enormously overbroad, as it
7 calls for "Collateralized Mortgage Obligations, derivatives and . . . all other 8 securities appearing in client accounts including [the 50 items specifically listed]."
9 The PRD subsidiary of Interactive Data evaluates approximately 1.2 million
10 mortgage related securities, out of which approximately 135,000 are CMOs. In 11 addition, the definition includes derivatives, which is a very broad term that 12 encompasses many types of fixed income and equity instruments. Moreover, as the 13 definition also includes "all other securities appearing in client accounts," it 14 purports to encompass the full universe of the more than 6 million securities that 15 PRD covers.

16 8. The document requests themselves, which are informed by the 17 subpoena's sweeping definitions, are also enormously and unreasonably broad.
18 Responding to them would be extremely costly and would require substantial and 19 enormously disruptive effort on the part of IDCO's and PRD's employees and 20 attorneys. For example, responding to the first request, which calls for "[a]ll
21 documents *relating to*¹ the pricing of the 'SUBJECT CMOs' on behalf of NFS
22 and/or Brookstreet Securities from January 2004 through September 2007," would 23 consume an enormous amount of time, at significant expense. NFS receives a full 24 universe file of CMOs on a daily basis, and IDCO and PRD are not privy to 25 information regarding which securities are held by NFS' clients. Accordingly,
26 providing responsive data regarding the CMO universe would require the search

27 _____
28 ¹ Emphasis added.

1 and review of the following types of databases and sources of information:

- 2 • The tracking query database: In order to research a specific security
3 identifier and its relationship to a client, an estimated 15 minutes
4 would need to be spent per identifier to produce the available
5 information. Therefore, to research the full universe of CMOs,
6 approximately 33,750 hours would be required. Moreover, in order to 7 perform the search in a comprehensive and accurate manner, it would 8 have to be performed by a customer service manager. Based on these 9 assumptions and further assuming an hourly rate of approximately $50 10 (multiplied by the approximately 33,750 hours it would take to 11 perform the search), the resulting cost would be approximately 12 $1,687,500.00. Moreover, due to confidentiality considerations,
13 additional time would be required in order to ensure that documents do
14 not contain records of communications with NFS that relate to NFS
15 clients other than Brookstreet.
- 16 • EVS Data: This data consists of documents reviewed by evaluators, 17 including market research, trade information, and similar data. The 18 cost of providing this data would vary depending on whether the 19 request is construed to encompass the full universe of CMOs, or is 20 limited to the 50 CMOs explicitly listed in the subpoena. If the full
21 universe of CMOs is considered, it would take a data collection
22 employee approximately one month to complete the job. If the request
23 were limited to the 50 CMOs, the cost would actually be higher
24 because it would require an evaluator to review each security for each 25 day that an evaluation was generated, and identify the relevant
26 information for each such security on each day. This would consume 27 approximately one hour per security per day. An evaluator would 28 have to perform the work, which would consume approximately 47,000 hours, at substantial cost.
- Nearly four years of evaluated pricing history for all securities delivered to NFS: Taking into account just the universe of CMOs (approx. 135,000 securities) this equates to well over one hundred million evaluations.

8. The foregoing are examples of the burden and costs that IDCO and PRD would be forced to incur in responding to the first of the eight requests in the arbitration subpoena, and the figures set forth above do not include internal and

1 external legal costs associated with production of the documents, which are likely 2 to be considerable.

3 9. Responding to the subpoena's other seven requests would only 4 increase the costs to IDCO and PRD. For example, the breadth of the requests and 5 the sweeping nature of the subpoena's definitions would require that employees'
6 email files be restored, and there is no limitation in the subpoena in terms of which 7 employees' e-mail files could contain relevant information, thus requiring 8 restoration and review of all employees' email files. The restoration could take 9 approximately 22 weeks, and the costs of restoration alone would be approximately 10 $288,000. This cost does not include the actual searching and review of the e-11 mails. It is difficult to estimate the costs associated with such searching and 12 review, but such tasks would greatly increase the costs of responding to the 13 subpoena, far in excess of the figures set forth above. Moreover, the request for 14 non-privileged files in the possession of Interactive Data's Legal Department
15 (Request No. 3) would be expensive, as it would necessitate a careful privilege
16 review by in-house and outside attorneys. Responding to request number 6, which 17 seeks all documents reflecting payments received from NFS and/or Brookstreet, 18 would also be extremely time consuming and disruptive, particularly given the 19 subpoena's broad definition of "Subject CMOs." All documents reflecting billing
20 and payments are saved in hard copies and archived, necessitating the identification 21 of responsive account numbers and the archived boxes containing their information.
22 Review of those boxes for responsive information would be expensive and 23 disruptive, as it would take several weeks, and would need to be performed by an 24 employee with knowledge of the billing system.

ARTICLE II

SHAREHOLDERS

Part 1. ANNUAL MEETING: The annual meeting of the shareholders shall be held on the 15 day of November at 12:00
P.M. at the principal office of the Corporation listed in Article

I hereof or at such other time, on such other day or at such other place as the Board of Directors may fix for the purpose of electing Directors and of transacting such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

Part 2. SPECIAL MEETING: Special meetings of shareholders may be called for any purpose or purposes unless otherwise prescribed by statute at any time by the President or Managing Director. Special meetings of the shareholders must be called (a) by any officer when ordered by the Board of Directors or (b) by the President, Managing Director, Secretary or Assistant Secretary whenever requested in writing to do so by shareholders owning at least one-tenth of all the outstanding shares of the Corporation entitled to vote at such meeting. If called pursuant to subsection (b) above, the request shall state the purpose or purposes of the proposed special meeting and the officer calling the meeting shall schedule the meeting within the time specified in the Ordinance. Special meetings shall be held at such place and on such date and time as may be designated in the notice thereof by the officer of the Corporation calling any such meeting. If no place is so designated, it shall be at the principal office of the Corporation listed in Article I hereof. The business transacted at any special meeting shall be limited to the purposes stated in the notice and any matters incidental thereto.

Part 3. NOTICE OF MEETINGS TO SHAREHOLDERS OF RECORD: Notice in writing of every annual and special meeting of shareholders, other than any meeting the giving of notice of which is otherwise prescribed by law, shall state the date, hour and place thereof, and in the case of special meeting, the name of the person or persons at whose direction the notice is being issued and the purpose of the meeting. Such notice shall be in writing and given personally or sent by mail, telegraph, cablegram, telex, teleprinter or other written transmission at least fifteen but not more than sixty days before the date of the meeting, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting and to each shareholder of record who, by reason of any action proposed at such meeting would be entitled to have his shares appraised if such action were taken. If mailed, notice shall be deemed to have been delivered when deposited in the mail, postage prepaid and directed to the shareholders at his address as it appears on the record of shareholders of the Corporation or at such other address which the shareholder has notified to the Secretary. Notice of a meeting need not be given to any shareholder who submits a signed waiver of notice, whether before or after the meeting, or who attends the meeting without protesting prior to the conclusion thereof the lack of notice to him.

Part 4. NOTICES OF SHAREHOLDERS' MEETINGS AND OTHER ACTIONS TO HOLDERS OF BEARER SHARES: Written notices of shareholders' meetings and notices of other actions shall be given to holders of bearer shares in one of the following manners: (a) by delivery or by mail to any bearer shareholder whose address or whereabouts

If mailed, notice shall be deemed to have been delivered when deposited in the mail, postage prepaid and addressed to the shareholder in accordance with the provisions of this Part 4. Notice of a meeting need not be given to any shareholder who submits a signed waiver of notice, whether before or after the meeting, or who attends the meeting without protesting prior to the conclusion thereof the lack of notice to him.

Part 5. QUORUM: Unless otherwise provided by the Ordinance, at any meeting of shareholders a majority of the shares entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum. If a quorum is not present, a majority of those shares present, in person or by proxy, shall have power to adjourn any meeting until a quorum shall be present. When a quorum is once present to organize a meeting, it is not broken by the subsequent withdrawal of any shareholders and any such withdrawing shareholders shall be counted in determining the number of shares represented at such meeting.

Part 6. VOTING : Providing a quorum is present, and unless otherwise expressly provided by the Ordinance, the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of stock represented at the meeting shall be the act of the shareholders. At any meeting of shareholders each shareholder entitled to vote any shares on any matter to be voted upon at such meeting shall be entitled to one vote on such matter for each such share, and may exercise this voting right either in person or by proxy. Any action permitted or required to be taken at a meeting may be taken without such meeting provided a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, is signed by all of the shareholders entitled to vote with respect to the subject matter thereof.

Part 7. FIXING OF RECORD DATE: For the purposes of determining shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of shareholders or adjournment thereof, or shareholders entitled to receive payment of any dividend, or for any other proper purpose, the Board of Directors may fix a time (the "Record Date"). The Record Date shall be not more than sixty nor less than fifteen days prior to (a) the date of any meeting of shareholders, or (b) the last day on which the consent or dissent of shareholders entitled to notice of any to vote at such a meeting (or whose consent or dissent is required or may be expressed) shall be determined, and all persons who were holders of record of voting shares at the Record Date shall be entitled to notice of and to vote at such meeting (or to express their consent or dissent, as the case may be). The Board of Directors may fix a time not exceeding sixty days preceding the date fixed for the payment of any dividend, the making of any other action, as a Record Date for the determination of the shareholders entitled to receive any such dividend, distribution, or allotment or for the purpose of such other action.

Part 8. PROOF OF BEARER SHAREHOLDER'S STATUS IN GENERAL AND AT SHAREHOLDERS' MEETINGS: A holder of bearer shares shall establish his status as shareholder for any purpose, including attendance and voting at shareholders' meeting but not including payment of dividends, in one of the following manners: (a) by presenting or producing the share certificate or (b) by depositing the share certificate in a bank, brokerage firm or other financial institution, as shall be specified in a notice to bearer shareholders, and producing an instrument to that effect executed by an officer of such institution or (c) in such other manner stated in a notice to bearer shareholders which shall adequately establish the status of bearer shareholders to the satisfaction of the authorized officers of the Corporation. For payment of dividends, a bearer shareholder shall establish his status in the manner set forth in Article VII, Part 2 of these bylaws.

Part 9. PROXY OF SHAREHOLDER: A shareholder may act by proxy in accordance with Section 65 of the Ordinance or any successor thereto.

ARTICLE III

DIRECTORS

Part 1. NUMBER AND QUALIFICATIONS. The business affairs of the Corporation and all corporate powers shall be managed by a Board of Directors consisting of such number of Directors as are determined by a resolution of the shareholders or a resolution of the Board of Directors. The number of Directors may be changed from time to time by a resolution of the shareholders or a resolution of the Board of Directors; provided, however, that the entire Board shall consist of not less than three Directors unless all shares of the Corporation are held by fewer than three shareholders, in which case the number of Directors may not be fewer than the number of shareholders. Directors may be natural persons, or corporations, of any nationality and need not to be residents of Neviz or shareholders of the Corporation.

Part 2. ALTERNATE DIRECTORS: At any annual shareholders' meeting, the shareholders may elect a person or persons to act as Directors in the alternative to designated persons elected as Directors of the Corporation (hereinafter referred to as "Alternate Directors") or may authorize the Directors for the time being in office to appoint such Alternate Directors and any person so appointed shall have all the rights and powers of the Director for whom he is appointed in the alternative, save that he shall not be entitle to attend and vote at any meeting of the Directors otherwise than in the absence of such Director. Where an Alternate Director has been appointed for any Director, such Director shall promptly notify such Alternate Director of the time and place of any meeting which such Director will not attend. Unless otherwise provided in the resolution appointing each Alternate Director, where an Alternate Director and a proxy for the same Director are both actively assuming rights or duties of such Director, the status of the proxy shall be superior.

Part 3. ELECTION OF DIRECTORS. Except as otherwise provided in the Ordinance or in these bylaws, the Directors (other than the first Board of Directors if named in the Articles of Incorporation or appointed by the incorporators) shall be elected at each annual meeting of shareholders. Each Director and Alternate Director, if any, shall be elected to serve until the next annual meeting of shareholders and until his successor shall have been duly elected and qualified, except in the event of his death, resignation, removal or the earlier termination of his term of office.

Part 4. REMOVAL: Any one or all of the Directors and Alternate Directors, if any, may be removed with or without cause by a vote of the shareholders. Any Directors or Alternate Directors may be removed for cause by action of the Board.

Part 5. VACANCIES: All vacancies occurring by death, resignation, creation of new directorship, failure of the shareholders to elect the whole Board at any annual election of Directors or for any other reason, except removal without cause, may be filled either by the vote of a majority of the remaining Directors, although less than a quorum, at any regular meeting of the Board or a special meeting called for that purpose, or by vote of the shareholders. Vacancies occurring by removal of Directors or Alternate Directors without cause may be filled only by vote of the shareholders.

Part 6. REGULAR MEETINGS: Regular meetings of the Board of Directors may be held without notice if the time and place thereof are designated by resolutions of the Board in advance of such meetings and if any Directors and Alternate Directors, if any, not present when such resolution is passed are given notice of the resolution. Any proper business may be transacted at any regular meeting.

Part 7. SPECIAL MEETINGS: Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called from time to time by the President of the Managing Director, or by any other officer of the Corporation who is also a Director. In addition, the President of the Managing Director or the Secretary shall promptly call a special meeting of the Board upon written request directed to any of them by any two Directors, which request must state the purpose of such special meeting. Special meetings of the Board shall be held on such date, at such time and place and for such purposes as may be designed in the notice thereof by the officer calling the meeting pursuant to this Part.

Part 8. NOTICE OF SPECIAL MEETINGS: Notice in writing of the date, time and place of any special meeting of the Board of Directors shall be given to each Director at least forty-eight hours prior to such meeting, unless the notice is delivered in person, in which case it shall be given at least twenty-four hours prior to such meeting. For the purpose of this section, notice shall be deemed to be duly given to a Director if given to him personally or if such notice be delivered to such Director by mail, telegraph, cablegram, telex, teleprinter or other written communication to his last known address. Notice of a meeting need not be given to any Director who submits a signed waiver before or after the meeting, or who attends the meeting without protesting, prior to the conclusion thereof, the lack of notice to him.

Part 9. QUORUM: A quorum for transaction of business shall consist of a majority of the entire Board or Directors, present in person or by Alternate Director or proxy or conference telephone or video.

Part 10. VOTING: The vote of the majority of the Directors, present in person or by Alternate Director or proxy or conference telephone or video, at a meeting at which a quorum is present shall be the act of the Directors. Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting may be taken without a meeting if all Directors or their proxies consent thereto in writing. Alternate Directors may not act as Directors for the purpose of taking action without a meeting unless they also have a written proxy from the Director for whom they are acting.

Part 11. COMPENSATION OF DIRECTORS AND MEMBERS OF COMMITTEES: From time to time the Board may, in its discretion, fix the amounts which shall be payable to its members, to Alternate Directors and to members of any committee, for attendance at the meetings of the Board, or of such committee, and for services rendered to the Corporation.

Part 12. PROXY OF DIRECTOR: Any Director or Alternate Director may appoint a proxy by an instrument in writing to act in his behalf for the purpose of exercising his powers and duties.

ARTICLE IV

COMMITTEES

Part 1. EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE AND OTHER COMMITTEES: The Board of Directors may, by resolutions passed by a majority of the entire Board, appoint from among its members an executive committee, which shall have, to the extent provided in said resolution or resolutions and permitted by law, the powers of the Board of Directors in the management of the business and affairs of the Corporation and may have the power to authorize one of its members or any corporate officer or agent to affix the seal to any corporate documents or instruments. In addition, the Board of Directors may, by resolution passed by a majority of the entire Board, appoint from among its members other committees, each of which shall perform such functions and have such authority and powers as shall be delegated to it by said resolution or resolutions, except that only the executive committee may have and exercise the powers of the Board of Directors. Members of the executive committee and any other committee shall hold office for such period as may be prescribed by the vote of a majority of the entire Board of Directors. Committees may adopt their own rules of procedure and may meet at predetermined times or on such notices as they may from time to time determine. Each committee shall keep a record of its proceedings and report the same to the Board when required. Alternate Directors may not be appointed to such committees, but may act for the Director for whom they are an alternate in exercising the powers and duties of such Director if such Director is not available in person or by proxy and if such Alternate Director is not specifically prohibited from so acting by a properly adopted resolution of the Board of Directors or the shareholders.

OFFICERS

Part 1. ELECTION AND REMOVAL: The Board of Directors shall elect as officers (a) a President, Secretary and Treasurer, or (b) a Managing Director and Secretary, and (c) such other officers as it may deem desirable or necessary to carry on the business of the Corporation. Officers may be of any nationality and may be, but are not required to be, citizens or residents of Nevis. The Managing Director is required to be a Director. Any other officers may be, but are not required to be, Directors. All officers must be natural persons except the Secretary, which may be a corporation. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person.

The Officers shall be elected annually by the Board of Directors at its first meeting following the annual election of Directors or as soon thereafter as possible. The salaries of officers, if any, and any other compensation paid to them shall be fixed from time to time by the Board of Directors. Each officer shall hold office until the first meeting of the Board of Directors following the next annual election of Directors and until his successor shall have been duly elected and qualified, except in the event of the earlier termination of his term of office through death, resignation, removal or otherwise. Any officer may be removed by the Board at any time with or without notice or hearing. Any vacancy in any newly created office may be filled for the unexpired portion of the term of such office by the Board of Directors at any regular or special meeting.

Part 2: PRESIDENT OR MANAGING DIRECTOR: The President or Managing Director shall be the chief executive officer of the Corporation, shall be responsible for the general management of the affairs of the Corporation and shall have the powers and duties usually incident to such office, except as specifically limited by appropriate resolution of the Board of Directors. He shall also have such other powers and perform such other duties as may be assigned to him by the Board of Directors. He shall preside at all meetings of shareholders at which he is present and, if he is a Director, at all meetings of the Directors.

Part 3.
